

REPLY FROM MANN IS EAGERLY AWAITED

Washington Churchmen Believe the Newly Elected Bishop Will Accept.

Although it is supposed that the Rev. Alexander Mann, D. D., of Trinity Church, Boston, will accept the bishopric of Washington, he has not been notified of the decision of the local diocese and consequently it is not known in the Capital whether or not the Boston divine will leave his work in the New England city to become the successor to the late Henry Yates Satterlee.

Dr. Randolph H. McKim, rector of the church of the Epiphany, and chairman of the diocesan convention which last night elected Dr. Mann as bishop of the Washington diocese, said this afternoon that he has not appointed the notification committee, which will go to Boston to see Dr. Mann and acquaint him with the decision of the local convention. It is not known just when this committee will be named nor who will be put upon it by Dr. McKim. It is understood, however, that the appointments will be made as soon as possible, since it is desirable that the notification be made with as much dispatch as possible.

Regarded as Able Man.

Dr. Mann is regarded by those who have known him in the past and who have known his work in Orange, N. J., and in Boston, as one of the best who could have been selected to fill the place held so long by Bishop Satterlee. He is regarded by his friends as possessing peculiar qualifications for the position of Bishop of Washington through his work in the diocese of Newark, N. J. He is a man in the prime of life, and has, through his various charges, acquired the ability to control men and to draw them to his side. His friends believe will make him valuable in this city.

Dr. Mann is a graduate of Hobart College, New York, where he received the degree of bachelor of arts, and from which he later received his degree of doctor of divinity. Dr. Mann studied theology at the General Theological Seminary in New York and shortly after finishing his course at that institution, became assistant to his uncle, Dr. Schuyler, then rector of Grace Church, Orange, N. J.

Became Assistant Rector.

After several years in this position, Dr. Mann was made assistant rector with the right of succession and upon the death of his uncle he was made rector of Grace Church. This church is one of the largest in Orange and its communicants come largely from suburban New Yorkers, so that Dr. Mann's experience has been broad.

About eighteen months ago, Dr. Mann was chosen rector of Trinity Church, Boston, formerly the church of Bishop Phillips Brooks. In his work in Boston he has been known as a courteous, scholarly man, who is possessed of a broad knowledge of humanity.

Much satisfaction was expressed today over the selection of Dr. Mann as bishop, and clergy who know him or who have heard of him through friends.

Named on Seventh Ballot.

Dr. Mann was selected at 11 o'clock last night on the seventh ballot, and only after Dr. McKim and Bishop Griswold, of Salina, Kan., had withdrawn from the race. Dr. Mann received 47 clerical and 48 lay votes; 55 clerical and 72 lay votes being cast, with 38 clerical and 47 lay votes necessary for a selection.

All through the morning and afternoon, and even well through the evening, three Washington divines figured in the contest. They were Dr. McKim; the Rev. R. P. Williams, D. D., of Trinity Church, and the Rev. C. Ernest Smith, of St. Thomas' Church. Dr. McKim at one time received a total of fifty-seven votes.

On the sixth ballot, after Dr. McKim had withdrawn, Dr. Mann, the third man placed in nomination, but one of those who had previously shown but little strength, received twenty-four clerical and twenty-seven lay votes. On the next ballot, taken at 11 o'clock, he received a total of ninety-six votes, and was declared elected.

Other divines who were nominated and who received ballots during the day were: The Rev. Dr. Grosvenor, of New York, nominated by the Rev. George Fiske Dudley, of St. Stephen's church, Washington; the Rev. Charles Slatery, of Springfield, Ohio; the Rev. J. M. Winchester, of Lower Maryland, nominated by Thomas Nelson Page.

SEARCH IN A SEWER FOR $600 IN LOOT

Detectives Seek Jewelry Said to Have Been Hidden by Boy Flat Thieves.

Half a dozen men were busy this morning digging for gold in the heart of the business section of Washington. They were employees of the Sewer Department and detectives from the Central office who were searching for between $200 and $600 worth of loot that is supposed to be hidden in the sewer at Thirteenth and G streets northwest.

In the Juvenile Court this afternoon, two boys—the older twelve years of age—will be given an opportunity to tell the story of what the police say was one of the most successful flat robberies in Washington in many months. They are Alexander Speck, thirteen years old, of 1314 G street northwest, and Joseph McMulty, eleven, of 908 E street northwest. The boys were arrested by Detectives Weedon and Burlingame.

On September 4 the apartment of Charles W. Butler, who lives over his place of business, 1320 G street northwest, was ransacked while members of the family were away for a short time during the middle of the day. Jewelry valued at nearly $600 was taken.

Last night the detectives placed the two boys under arrest, and both, the police say, admitted their guilt, and told a detailed story about how they had robbed the apartment. They entered the building by crawling over a skylight leading to a vacant apartment next door.

At half hour after they had taken the jewelry, they said, they became frightened, and decided to dispose of the articles in a manner that would defy detection. With the exception of a gold watch and a diamond ring, they dumped the jewelry in the sewer at Thirteenth and G streets.

They went to Tenth and G streets, where they amused themselves by breaking the watch into small pieces by striking it with bricks on the curbstone. The ring was recovered. The police have very little chance of recovering any of the articles from the sewer.

The Stomach Does Not Cause Dyspepsia

Neither Will It Cure It Because The Lack of Gastric Juices Prohibit Relief.

The stomach is a strong, powerful organ, which is composed of muscles of great strength. It is filled during digestion with gastric juices which, when the stomach, extending and compressing the food, dissolve it and separate the nourishment from the waste matter. If, however, these gastric juices are lacking, the stomach is not capable of digesting its food because it has not the tools with which to work successfully.

The gastric juices when in a perfect state do away with all foul odors, fermentation and decay, reduce the food to a disintegrated mass and the stomach then presses it into the intestines where another form of digestion takes place. Then the intestines take from this mass of food all that is nourishing and give it to the blood. The waste matter is thrown from the system.

If instead of nourishment the intestines receive impure deposits combined with a poisonous and imperfect gastric juice, it can be readily seen that they must turn such imperfect nourishment into the blood. The blood then being unable to give each part of the body that which it requires, becomes impoverished and disease is spread broadcast.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets corrects such a condition at once. If the gastric juices are lacking and imperfect these tablets do their work just the same. They build up the elements in the juice which are lacking and remove those elements which cause disturbance.

Meat, grains, fluids, vegetables and delicacies in fact each portion of a large meal have been placed in a glass vial and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have digested them to a perfect fluid just as a healthy stomach would do.

A large complex, hearty meal holds no terrors for a dyspeptic if Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used. Abnormal eating, late dinners, rich foods cause ill effects to the stomach, but when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used one may eat when and what one will without danger of dyspepsia or discomfort.

Forty thousand physicians endorse and prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and every druggist carries them in stock, price 50c. Send us your name and address and we will send you at once by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 130 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

PAPER STRIKE LOST BY MILL EMPLOYEES

International Company to Hire New Men, While Honoring Unionism.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Notice was posted this morning in the mills of the International Paper Company throughout New England that hereafter the company would have no further dealing with its striking employees, and would proceed to fill their places as soon as possible.

The corporation will resume work at its mills at the earliest possible date. In filling positions vacated by striking employees, preference will be given to men formerly employed. The officers say the strikers' latest proposition cannot be considered, and, since they have repudiated the agreement made by the president of the International Brotherhood, the company must decline to treat further with that organization.

The statement asserts that the company is not opposed to organized labor, and will recognize any properly constituted organization and live up to agreements between it and the company.

ASKS FOR STATISTICS ABOUT THE DISTRICT

Macfarland Says Separate Report Is Needed to Do Capital Justice.

In the preparation of the Census Bureau Bulletin on the Statistics of Cities, Commissioner Macfarland has requested S. N. D. North, Director of the Census, to publish separately from other cities the municipal statistics of the District of Columbia.

Until this is done, says Commissioner Macfarland, the District of Columbia will continue to be misrepresented by those who take the per capita figures on the face of the bulletin, as extravagant and expensive in its municipal administration, when the fact is that considering its unique character and circumstances its expenditures are among the most economical and reasonable in the world.

As the statistics are now published, he adds, the figures for Washington are compared with those of cities which benefit by State and county expenditures, which properly are not reckoned in the expenditures of municipalities.

Commissioner Macfarland has received from Director North a letter promising compliance with the request if possible.

"A LOVE OF A HAT" GOES WITH RUBBISH

Steamship Steward, Ordered to Clean Up, Throws Away Madam's Paris Purchase.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—An order given to a steward by a maid during the trip of the White Star Line steamship Adriatic, caused great grief for the wife of a railroad and banking man well known in the financial district.

The bank's wife had bought "a love of a hat"—the pick of the Paris shops. It was sent aboard the vessel at Cherbourg. The owner planned to wear it down the gangplank and create a sensation when she met her waiting friends on the pier.

There was, however, something about the way the trimmings were put on that did not suit madam's taste. She decided to strip off all the flowers, artificial birds, ribbons, and things and have her maid rearrange them under her direction. Madam removed the decorations from the huge hat and spread them about the furniture in her suite.

While she was absent the maid met the bedroom steward in the passageway. She ordered him to remove "the rubbish," and he did.

LEWIS HAS SHADE ON UNK RUSSELL

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—Harry Lewis, of Boston, had a shade over Unk Russell at the end of their six-round bout last night at Old City Hall, but it was so small that, had a decision been rendered, a draw would have been the only fair verdict.

It was the first time in three years that two first-class fighters have clashed here, and a large crowd turned out to witness the contest.

Lewis was much the cleverer of the two.
